Mystically in Season for Gemini

0-17 Degrees: You are in a long-term cycle of growth that has been asking you to break free from old programming and constructs. This brings about both feelings of bitterness but also excitement as you see deeply, a vision for a future-you that is working to break open. Experimentation, rebelling against tradition, and detaching from old paths are all part of the curriculum of this phase in your 19-year plan. What is holding you back from being unique and true to you? How are you individuating in original ways right now? What are you resisting and angry at? This is a time that freedom is craved. A freedom that allows you to go against your own grain and the grain you've been patterned into. It's a time to see life in new prismatic dimensions, to study science and humanity in order to see with more possibility, the ways you've never explored. Dare to be the you that is trying to surface. Dare to break out of things holding you back. Dare to be original.

17.3-30 Degrees: You have been through some years of breaking away from and breaking down old patterns and constructs in your life, individuating to find the most original and free version of you. But before you can truly birth new conditions into your life, there are still some last straggling things you are holding tight to that need to be surrendered. This phase is the last in a 19-year cycle of life: the otherworldly realm before a new start is birthed, the primordial cosmic soup. This is a time of being at the edge of your boundaries where a lot of complexity is allowed in, where exhaustion is reached as you hit a wall in your resistance to letting go. This is a time when if you don't let go of baggage, the cosmos will help you along in this assignment. This place of surrender opens your life up to the potential of all. It's a scary place to be, for many. A place of feeling anchor-less. A place of seeing synchronistic patterns but not being able to hurry them along. A deep trust in divine organization is called for. Patience. Let yourself swim, sleep, dream, and truly let go in order for your boundaries to be transcended. In order for new sparks to start holding inspiration and art in your heart. Trust in the non-linear, the liminal, and the unseen right now. It's working to create a new constellation in your life.

Detach. Experiment. Surrender

June 21 – July 21

This season asks doubly for you to detach into more freedom in your life. Observation, stepping back, and witnessing are beautiful ways to engage in the work being asked of you this thirty-days. In alignment with your 19-year cycle, this could be at great time to truly break out of old brittle ways of being. Do everything differently. Take different routes to work, hang out with more groups, more diversity of people and friends, be open-minded and experiment with seeing life through collaborative and co-creative excitement. Surprise even yourself with how you are able to see yourself in different light and the world in different light. Be more aware of the greater world and your potential within it.

Watch June 29th–July 1st for the heart of this phase for you.

Oracle Draw for Gemini: Inner Trust

If ever there were a time to really listen to the inner you, it's this season. Our minds want things to work in linear and forward moving patterns, but our souls are on their own timelines with deeper callings and more knowing of what we really need. Try to relax into the inner voice, the knowing that needs no plan, striving, or expectations. From this place you open a space to be more free to be who you are becoming as well as to manifest in real ways, what you really need for the now. Being present, open, and free from reaching is where to aim this season. A soft space to just allow. To just be. To see how an openness brings options into your life that you couldn't have expected or designed. Breathe, center in authenticity, and let life flow in and out in rhythm with the way your soul is newly unfolding into a different light. Manifestation can result in more amazing ways when we really tune into the inner self where things don't always make sense, but that always lead us to a deepened life.
