Mystically in Season for Libra

0-17 Degrees: You are in a phase of multiplying your life with options, movement, and connection. You spent several years really molding and finding a voice of confidence in something, but the time has come to give your life wings. Be bold and brave in talking about who you are, what you are doing (or trying to do), and using words and community to network a liveliness around you. You may feel more flakey than usual or experience anxiety as you open lots of doors and absorb lots of new information, but relax into this. You are meant to explore options in your current phase of growth, which means a bit of fun superficiality. You will not deepen all areas you pollinate right now, but you do need to find that things that will help lead you to more depth and grounding. This means exploring with a light touch.

17.3-30 Degrees: You've had a couple of busy years exploring and enlivening your life with community, connection, and learning. Words, movement, and information made your life a whirlwind of beauty, but now you have a longing to deepen one or two of the doors that've been opened. You may need to let go of a few things in order to really grow some maturity and security in more focused ways. You may feel more hermit-y and insecure right now as you dive into the underground soils where your roots live. Own a deep desire to nurture your private life in order to feel more secure and stable. The beauty of this phase of growth is you are getting in touch with your soulfulness and imagination in really glowing ways. Dive deep and hone your intuition to guide you a little more than relying on reason. The more you nurture yourself, the more growth into deepness, hence stability, you'll find.

Pollinate. Ground. Deepen

June 21 – July 21

This season may feel a bit more triggering than usual as you are urged to bring conflict into balance, to listen more, compromise, and cooperate—especially as relates to the security of your life. Find patience as this leads to a deep sense of elegance. Let things ebb and flow before reacting. Pause, watch, and allow time for particles to settle. Your intuition will lead you to see to the heart of fairness and beauty. If relationships/partnerships fade it's likely they were not feeding you anything that was supportive of your life. If they thrive, a new depth of trust will be established. Either way, your roots are seeking balance in their dance of growth.

Watch July 8th-9th for the heart of this phase for you.

Oracle Draw for Libra: Love

The oracle asks that you keep your heart open this season. To open your heart and embrace love, even if it hurts. Love is not the thing that hurts. It heals as it only knows love. Keeping your heart open to this will help you push past and process any pains. Or if love is flourishing, it will point you to ways of noticing it in all of the small details, corners, paths, side paths, and the obviously-in-front-of-you forms of love in your life. Let love surprise you this month as you keep your heart open and willing to receive it from any and all interactions. I have a feeling that love is the food that will nurture and feed your grounding needs. Even if all that is, is self-love.
